GIRL DIES IN SOUTH SALEM ROAD CRASH

Selma Kreuger Dies Two Hours After She Is Hurlled Out of Car; Head Is Crushed

CAR OWNED AND DRIVEN BY BANGOR BOY; 2 THROWN OUT

Companion Escapes Injury; Car Skidded in Soft Earth at Side of Road

Selma Kreuger, 18 years, died early Monday morning in St. Francis hospital as the result of injuries received on the South Salem road, about two miles from the city limits when the auto in which she was riding skidded on the soft earth at the side of the road, crashed into a telephone pole and threw the girl out.

A call was put in for an ambulance within a few minutes after the accident. The girl was hurled to St. Francis hospital but she died within two hours, without regaining consciousness. Miss Kreuger's skull had been fractured at its base, according to the hospital report. One side of her face was crushed from the impact with the ground after she had been hurled out of the automobile by the force of the collision with the pole.

Returning from Bangor, Miss Kreuger, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kreuger, 322 South Ninth street, was returning to the city with Ernest Holberg, 17 years old, 2830 South avenue, and Herbert Horstman, 21, of Bangor, owner and driver of the car. They had taken Erma Holberg, cousin of Ernest Holberg, to her home at Bangor, and were on their way back when the accident happened.

The car was about a mile from Selma's place toward the city, when the accident occurred. Several cars had passed Horstman, he said, when he saw another approaching. He turned out, he said, when suddenly Horstman found himself driving his car in the ditch. The auto proceeded with one side down in the ditch off the side of the road. Suddenly a telephone pole loomed before the car, the windshield, tearing off the top and flattening the rear right fender.

Miss Kreuger and Holberg were riding in the back seat. Both were thrown out of the car. Holberg escaped injury. Miss Kreuger was on the side of the car that hit the pole. The back of her head was crushed by the blow. She fell on the side of the road, with her head a short distance from the paving.

Passing Autoist Gives Aid
A man passing in a Hudson coach saw Miss Kreuger lying on the road near the post and told Horstman and Holberg that he would notify St. Francis hospital as soon as he reached the city. Within a few minutes an ambulance arrived and Miss Kreuger was taken to the hospital. She died at 3 a. m.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed. Mrs. Kreuger has been visiting a married daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Hall, at Aberdeen, S. D. She has been notified of the accident and is returning to La Crosse and will arrive early Tuesday morning. Besides her parents, Miss Kreuger is survived by two sisters and a brother. Mrs. Hall of Aberdeen, Mrs. Lucia Drew of Chicago and Leland Kreuger of this city. Miss Kreuger was employed as a stenographer at the Marinello company. She attended the public schools and a business school of this city.

A Ford sedan returning to Winona from La Crosse about 5:30 Sunday afternoon, went through the wooden railing as it left Hunter's Bridge by the north approach and rolled twenty-five feet down into the Black River bottoms, landing on its side. The car was badly damaged, but none of the five occupants was injured.

ESCH GIRL HURT IN AUTO CRASH SATURDAY NIGHT

John Esch's car came to grief last Saturday night when it tipped completely over on striking another car without lights, bound in the opposite direction severely shaking up the occupants of the Esch car and causing Anne Esch to sustain a bad gash above the knee. John Esch with four sisters Marie, Margaret, Anna, and Ruth returning from a picnic were about four miles from Medary when the accident happened. The unfortunate motorists were taken to La Crosse in the McCormick car. Anna Esch was taken immediately to a local hospital where a number of stitches were taken in her wound.

QUIZ JENSEN IN CONNECTION WITH BALZER MURDERS

Believe Man Who Confessed Jaeger Killing Knows Something of Earlier Crime

JENSEN TO BE ARRAIGNED WITH GALLOWAY FOR JAEGER DEATH

Seek Third Man Reported to Have Been Involved in Slaying

BARABOO, Wis.—When arraigned before local justices of the peace here Monday afternoon, Alvin Jensen and John Galloway, confessed slayers of Robert Jaeger, Black Hawk, Wis., hermit, waived preliminary examinations and were held to answer charges of first degree murder.

BARABOO, Wis.—In the belief that Alvin Jensen, one of the alleged confessed slayers of Robert Jaeger, Black Hawk recluse, knows more about the triple Balzer killing of August, 1922, than he has told officials, District Attorney Henry J. Bohm of Sauk county, prepared to give the Madison painter one more chance to tell of any connection he may have with the slaying of the Sauk county family.

Jensen and John Galloway, both of whom have signed confessions telling of their part in killing Jaeger, are expected to be arraigned before Judge Adolph Andor, mayor of Baraboo, sometime Monday. If they express an intention to plead guilty to the crime, Judge E. Ray Stevens, Madison will be called to sit in circuit court to receive their pleas and to pass sentence. Officials said that they were counting much on the quiz of Jensen to determine what he knows about the brutal slaying of William, Julius and Mary Balzer on their Cassel Prairie farm. The man is reported by the county officers to have shown intimate knowledge of details of that crime.

It has been learned that Galloway has a prison record at Anamosa, Iowa, where he served in the reformatory for six years on conviction for grand larceny.

ANNUAL K. OF C. ORPHAN PICNIC HELD ON SUNDAY

Members of Local Council Entertain Kiddies at Annual Frolic at St. Michaels

BISHOP M'GAVICK DELIVERS ADDRESS TO PICNIC CROWDS

Children Enjoy Outing With Their Benefactors

THE annual picnic given by La Crosse Council, Knights of Columbus, for the orphans of the city was held on the grounds of St. Michael's Orphanage on Marion Coulee road, Sunday afternoon. It was the most successful picnic ever given by the order from the standpoint of attendance as well as in the general good time enjoyed by the orphans.

The buildings of the orphanage which have just been redecorated, were open all day for the reception and inspection of visitors and many were given their first insight of an institution where upwards of 200 children are cared for annually under the supervision of Rev. Michael Pollack, superintendent.

Miss Chloe Stark, matron of the Home for the Friendless, her assistants and fifteen children of the home were the guests of the Knights of Columbus at the picnic.

Two large refreshment stands supplied candy, crackleback, ice cream and other refreshments to the children and the entire playground equipment of the orphanage was in great demand throughout the afternoon.

The program opened with an address by the Right Rev. Alexander J. McGavick, bishop of the diocese of La Crosse. Bishop McGavick was introduced by Grand Knight John E. Flanagan of the Knights of Columbus. The bishop paid a high tribute to the chaplain and sisters of St. Michael's orphanage for the splendid work they are doing in the care of the children and thanked the people of La Crosse and the entire diocese for the support they have given in the upkeep of the institution.

Bishop Speaks

The bishop said in part: "For the help, encouragement and recreation afforded the orphans today by the Knights of Columbus and their friends, I am most grateful. There is no greater charity than to assist a child, handicapped by hard fortune, to get a start in life. The solicitude of the church for such children has been one of her shining characteristics from the beginning. This institution represents the most important charity in the diocese."

"Home and School"
"St. Michael's orphanage is not simply a home but a school where the work of education and moral training is carried on as systematically and efficiently as in other schools for children of like age. Our aim is to so equip the children here that they will have an equal chance in life with others."

"We cannot supply the loss of parental love and affection, but we try to give the fullest possible measure of human sympathy and kindness."

Sport Program

After the bishop's address a program of field sports consisting of 14 events was carried out. Prizes were awarded the winners in each event. Each child was then presented with a box containing candy and nuts. A baseball game between the North and South Side Knights was won by the North Side by a score of 5 to 4. It was a fast game and the result was in doubt until the final inning. The batteries for the North Side were Donovan and G. Carroll, and for the South Side Bott and G. Hacker.

Clergy Attends

Among the members of the clergy of the city in attendance were: Rt. Rev. A. J. McGavick, Rev. Leo Hirt, secretary to the bishop, Rev. Ambrose Murphy, Rev. Peter Pape, Rev. R. L. Lenthner, Rev. E. Hoffman, Rev. Dr. R. B. Condon and Rev. Michael Pollack, superintendent and chaplain of the orphanage.

The committee in charge was as follows: Joseph Rudolph, chairman; Thomas Bailey, Andrew Englehardt, George Carroll and John Schmelzer.

REVEALS HARDING PLANS FOR WORLD PEACE CONFERENCE

Journalist Makes Public Letter Written by Late President in June

CALLED ON PRESS OF NATION TO EXERT INFLUENCE FOR PEACE

Writer Tells of Plan to Invite World Nations to Parley

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—A letter from Warren G. Harding, written June 15, exhorting American newspaper editors to use their power to end war and described as "the legacy of a newspaperman-president to the press of his country," was made public Sunday night by Walter Wellman, journalist and author.

In this letter, sent through Mr. Wellman to the editors of American newspapers, Mr. Harding sounded the same note he struck when, gazing with misty eyes on the "wastek of American dead borne back from the battlefields of Europe, he exclaimed, "It must not be again."

Tribunals Instead of Wars

"I am informed," wrote Mr. Harding to his fellow editors, "that some of you are considering a plan to use the power of the great American newspaper press to ascertain the opinions of the people on the problem of America's duty in world reorganization for the abolition of war, the reign of international law, with tribunals instead of battlefields as courts of last resort, and the creation of a system of international co-operation, without supergovernment or encroachment upon the independence of any nation, designated permanently to preserve peace, neighborly relations, economic stability and prosperity among all the peoples of the world."

"That this plan to elicit American opinion is to be participated in by newspapers of all sections of the country, without regard to political affiliations and that no partisan purpose of any sort is to be sought by it; and the various vital phases of the problem are to be carefully and impartially presented to readers as aid in forming their judgment appeals to me strongly."

Should Not Enter League

"I have long since become convinced that the United States should not and will not enter the much discussed league of nations, but that conviction has not destroyed the hope that there may be found a way to world association and attending world understanding."

"With this plan to set the American people to thinking more strongly and clearly and expressing their conclusions concerning the international situation, I am in full sympathy. It is an admirable, useful work, and I hope you carry it to all the readers in the land."

"In my opinion this is a problem which the United States must soon meet with earnestness and courage, and that it will be of great help to the government when it proceeds towards a practical solution of the problem to have a definite formation of public opinion to build and rely upon."

Not Political Issue
"I further believe that in this great task of helping to make the world safe for humanity, no political party should seek selfish advantage; that wholesome tradition that party rivalry stop at the edge of the high seas."

GUNFIRE BREAKS OUT IN DUBLIN AS ELECTIONS OPEN

Balloting in Dail Elections Proceeded With National Troops Patrolling Streets

NEARLY TWO MILLION ELIGIBLE TO VOTE FOR MEMBERS OF DAIL

Republican Manifesto Issued Under Name of De Valera

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—A lively outbreak of rifle and machine gun fire occurred in Dublin early today. The shooting was not explained. Balloting in the dail election proceeded with national troops patrolling the streets.

A motor car carrying James Crowley and the minister of fisheries, Finian Lynch, both of whom are candidates of the government party for Kerry, was attacked by a crowd while passing through Linslaw Sunday. Shots were fired and one young man was seriously injured.

Voting in the dail elections began throughout the Irish Free State at 9 o'clock with an electorate of more than 1,750,000 eligible to cast their ballots. Nearly 500,000 of this number are new voters, most of them being young people of both sexes.

The day is a public holiday and makes possible the closing of the polls at 7 o'clock.

Supporters of the government party have daily increased in confidence and it is now believed that this group will constitute the largest bloc in the new house. The republicans rely on the new voters to improve the showing made by them in the last election when they took 36 seats.

The final pre-election pronouncement of the republicans, issued as a manifesto, bore the name of Eamon de Valera but is strongly suspected of having been the work of Mrs. E. K. Childers, who can read the republican leader's mind as can no one else. Among other things the manifesto says:

"The world once more is looking on. Shall it be that this generation has turned renegade to the national faith and undone by disastrous submission of the princes and prelates to Henry II, which brought us centuries of shame and sorrow?"

AVIATORS OFF IN ATTEMPT TO SET ENDURANCE MARK

Westerners Hope to Remain in Air Forty-five Hours; Will Re-fuel in Air

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—By The Associated Press.—Captain Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. P. Richter took off at 5:07 a. m. Monday from Rockwell field, North Island, in an attempt to establish an aviation record for endurance, speed and distance.

The weather was cloudy and the officers circled about at an elevation of 500 feet.

Continuous flight for at least 45 hours, perhaps fifty hours, was the objective of the aviators, who represent the army. They expected to make the first contact with a refueling plane between 9:30 and 10 a. m. Thereafter they had planned to make contacts every two hours.

The De Havilland plane, manned by Captain Smith and Lieut. Richter, was expected to stay aloft on a course, illuminated at night, over the environs of San Diego.

Two refueling and provisioning planes were keyed up to the hazardous task of keeping the record-seeking plane going.

Two previous attempts for distance and duration records had been made by Captain Smith and Lieut. Richter last June 27 and 28. In the first attempt the aviators were forced down after five hours by burning out of a generator on their plane and on the second flight the aviators became lost in the fog after about 24 hours of flying, and were forced to land.

Though they did not reach their set mark of a four day duration flight the two officers broke speed records for 2,500 and 3,000 kilometers, and demonstrated the practicability of re-fueling an airplane in mid-air.

MEDIATOR SAYS A SETTLEMENT MUST BE MADE

Solution of Difficulties Possible and Must be Reached U. S. Arbitrator Tells Coal Operators and Union Leaders

ARRANGES SEPARATE CONFERENCES WITH LEADERS OF BOTH SIDES

Seeks Interviews With Opposing Factions to Get Basis for Demands

HARRISBURG, Pa.—By The Associated Press.—Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania assembled leaders of each side in the anthracite controversy around his office table Monday and told them bluntly that the proposed suspension of mining September 1 could not be allowed.

Settlement of the controversy between anthracite miners and operators "is possible—and it must be done," Governor Pinchot said at the opening here of the conference called by him in an effort to avert suspension of operations September 1.

Declaring the crisis now has been reached, he asserted, "we must do in this eleventh hour what should have been done before."

Still Time for Settlement

"It can be done and must be done," he said. "There is still time. Let us use this time in an effective spirit of common counsel so that this common danger may pass, with due regard to the rights of all, and with due credit and honor to all concerned."

With the exception of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, all participants in the Atlantic City negotiations were here today, Philip Murray, vice president of the union, was here in Mr. Lewis' absence with the three district presidents. The four members of the operators' policy committee were present.

Impressively the men gathered around his counsel table, listening to his words. They were Samuel D. Warriner, A. B. Jessup, W. W. Inglis and W. J. Richards of the operators' policy committee, and Philip Murray, vice president and C. J. Golden, Richard Cappellini and Thomas Kennedy, district presidents of the United Mine Workers, whose orders are out for closing down the mines September 1.

There was scarcely a sound to interrupt the governor as he read his address.

Deals With Factions Separately

"In my opinion the wisest thing I can do is to deal separately with each side," he said. "I learn the basis for demands as fully as I can. I request you give me these interviews."

"We'll be very glad to grant your request," Mr. Warriner responded at the close of the appeal.

"Thank you, gentlemen," Governor Pinchot rejoined. "We'll adjourn then (Continued on page six)"

LORD BIRKENHEAD'S SPEECH CRITICISED BY LONDON PAPERS

Gets Little Sympathy from Home Press for Address Attacking President Wilson

LONDON.—The Earl of Birkenhead has received little sympathy from the British press for the position in which he finds himself as a result of the first address of his American tour, delivered last Friday evening before the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass. In fact, the press tends to heap coals on the fire laid by Henry Breckinridge, assistant secretary of war, under President Wilson, when he criticized the earl for remarks about Mr. Wilson.

The morning Post asserts that the effect of Birkenhead's injudicious remarks is "to confirm the isolationists in the wisdom of their policy of turning their backs on Europe." In an editorial headed "L'Enfant Terrible Abroad," the Daily News says that the British do not like the American tariff laws, but would welcome an almost prohibitive tariff on the importation of former members of British cabinets and a rigid customs examination of the contents of their lecture tour portfolios.

The Westminster Gazette hopes that undue importance will not be attached to Birkenhead's words, asserting that there are few politicians in England today who speak so exclusively for themselves as does Birkenhead.

The Westminster Gazette points out the unfairness of arguing that Woodrow Wilson is the agent of the post war conditions.

Europe is what it is because of the mistakes and misdeeds of those who have actually influenced its development and who were by no means disposed to help Wilson when his power was at its height. The Daily Herald, the labor newspaper, offers an apology for the ex-chancellor, saying: "He has long been regarded as a national nuisance and has now become a national danger."

SWEET SLEEP IN A BED OF SNOW

Apologies of a recent start for the no longer resist lying down. It is in such circumstances as those that a person may go to sleep never to wake.

The general belief that when you are lost in the Arctic you must not go to sleep is erroneous. One of the commonest experiences of humanity is that when you are cold in bed you have difficulty in sleeping. If you are warm enough to want to sleep, you can do so safely, for as soon as you become chilled you will awake. The ordinary procedure of trying to keep awake at all costs is dangerous. It has been the cause of dozens of deaths. Men would become lost, and, obsessed with the idea that going to sleep would necessarily be fatal, would try to keep awake indefinitely; their only means of doing it would be to walk up and down. Through semi-paun brought on by fear of freezing, they would walk faster than they should; they would gradually become more fatigued, and would perspire violently enough to make their clothes wet, and thus good conductors of heat and of little value as protection against the cold. Eventually the point of exhaustion would come, and they could no longer resist lying down. It is such circumstances as those that a person may go to sleep never to wake.

BADGERS WITH MOVIE CAMERA INVADE LAST STRONGHOLD OF WILD LIFE IN NORTH AMERICA

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—One hundred and fifty miles north of Port Arthur, Ont. eight representatives of the local chapter of the Izak Walton League invaded the last strong hold of the wild life in North America, where the virgin forested hills moving pictures were taken to be distributed later to every unit of the wild game organization throughout the United States. These pictures will be utilized in the national campaign to preserve the remaining wild life of this continent.

The party camped for ten days on the banks of the swift and turbulent Nipigon river which winds its way among the many hills that rise like mountains from the clear stream. Every day was a thriller for the campers. There was shooting of the rapids, trips into the dense thickets and fishing. The motion picture camera clicked away 5,000 feet of film which was a new thrill for the Indian guides. Landing of fish before the ever ready eye of the machine was a great delight.

Several trips were made over the rapids. Each time the lives of the participants were in the hands of the red men who guided the frail canoes through the foaming and roaring waters. These guides are expert river pilots. Before a guide can take a white man on a shoot of the Nipigon rapids he must obtain a license from the province of Ontario. The guide must prove his skill with the water craft, be a good swimmer and know the currents of the stream. If a passenger should lose his life while shooting the rapids with an Indian guide the latter will lose his license and with it the respect of his brothers. Although this is one of the wildest streams in North America only one tourist has lost his life there in ten years.

The passing of the American Indians and along with them the great forests with their moose and deer was strangely brought home to the travelers when one of the guides related the legend of the sleeping chief. Man-ah-sho (Hiawatha), whom the great spirit Manitou, according to an Indian legend, turned to stone, sleeps in the harbor of Port Arthur. This is among the Indian traditions which Longfellow has immortalized. Man-ah-sho, according to the tribesmen, is asleep over the northern lakes and will awaken when the vessels of the white men are removed from the waters. The legend as told by the Indian follows:

"When the strange craft of the white man sails no more on northern Lake, then shall Man-ah-sho, the sleeping giant awake. Then, too, shall Kitchie Manito, the great uncle of the Ojibways, come to life again, and the forests of the north will be filled with thousands of stealthy moccasins feet.

"Poor Man-ah-sho lies dreaming, able to hear the laments, to feel the suffering, to see the tears of his people, but unable to help them in their distress. Because of his thoughtless part in a great tragedy, Manitou turned him to stone. The white men call the sleeper Thunder Cape, for great banks of smoke rise above him, lightning flashes rend the skies, but try as they will while the white man rules in the north, the elements cannot awaken Man-ah-sho."

SOLOMON LEVITAN PRAISES LOYALTY OF JEWISH PEOPLE

State Treasurer Addresses Convention of Northern Lodges of Jewish Society

ASHLAND, Wis.—The typhen has no place in Americanism, Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, declared in an address before the northern council of the B'nai B'rith consisting of the lodges of Duluth, Superior, Hibbing, Ashland and Virginia, here Sunday afternoon.

"Either you are Americans or you are aliens," Mr. Levitan said. "If you call yourself a Jewish-American you are a misfit; but if you take your place among other loyal Americans as American Jews, then you possess an indisputable right to all the opportunity that America offers."

"Jews of this country have nothing to fear for the future. The poison of racial antagonism fostered and brought to this country by the influence of the Russian monarchists, or that which is now being stirred up by those who would seek to promote their own political or financial success, will never have an effect here. We have in our country one man who, through his antagonism toward the Jews is trying to raise himself to one of the highest political positions in the land, but his agitation is built on falsehood and it cannot stand. He never will be able to realize his ambition. History has shown that we always had some Haman but always we have overcome their evil influence.

"Our Jewish people are demonstrating a thorough-going American citizenship, and the American people are too intelligent to be swayed by European prejudices, or the falsehoods fostered by those who are trying to commercialize hatred. Our Jews have proved their loyalty to their adopted country. One of the fundamental teachings of the Jewish law demands a loyalty to their country. Our people demonstrated their loyalty during the last war. They gave more than their quota of both men and money. Our Jewish people are proving their Americanism, and it is by that that they are being judged."

Commendable Moderation

EVEN those who have been convinced of the folly of Eamon De Valera's fight to destroy the Irish Free State may have caught their breaths for a moment at the announcement of his capture. There was the sad story of the martyred McSweeney. People had been shot to death in open fighting day after day in the quarrel led by De Valera. That the penalty of his capture might be followed by a firing squad seemed not impossible, for heads were hot and bloodshed common.

And so, no doubt, there was a general feeling of relief upon the forbearance of the Free State officials in announcing that De Valera would simply be restrained to prevent his causing trouble during the pending elections. He may cost others their lives in future outbreaks. He will never offer anything constructive to the Free State, because it is his hope to destroy it. But he has been a heroic figure, one who fought with tremendous endurance and great passion for a principle in which he believed. It was the zealot in him, no doubt, which destroyed his practicality and prevented him from accepting a step in freedom that could be taken, and to insist upon an impossible leap which would end only in the abyss. Neither failure nor folly can make him an ignoble figure. Insinuations of cowardice when he fell from exhaustion will not stand against a man who for more than five years has so conducted himself as to carry a price on his head and to have made of himself a target in a country of chaos for any man's gun.

The Irish Free State is to be congratulated upon the triumph of sanity in dealing with Eamon De Valera, president of the "Irish republic."

A Bad Bull

IF it be true, as asserted, that the statistical sharps of the federal government largely over-estimated the wheat crop in their July report, there is good reason for the predicted shake-up in the department of agriculture. For a mistake of that nature is tremendously costly to the farmers. Prices are made on the basis of wheat on hand and to come into the market, and the government crop report is the foundation of all market opinion. If that report is misleading there is no way to check it up or challenge it. By the time the true facts may become known the damage is largely done, particularly as regards those farmers who are least able to protect themselves. Wealthier farmers may be able to hold on to their grain until the advance of the season demonstrates whether the crop estimate was wrong or until the market is established. But the small fellow must sell his grain quickly. A mistake in the government estimate may make to him the difference between comfort and bankruptcy.

No one will suppose that Secretary Wallace or his aides deliberately falsified the crop report. But it is entirely possible that through faulty organization or carelessness somewhere along the line serious mistakes could have crept in, despite the best intentions. And since a well-meaning mistake in such an important matter is quite as disastrous as calculated treachery, a shake-up and sifting of responsibility is urgently indicated. The public will demand that those to blame be dealt with as an example in the interests of future accuracy.

No doubt most of the country would regard a transfer to Secretary Hoover's department of these activities as a sensible step. Under Mr. Hoover the department of commerce has risen to importance which it has never held in other administrations, and those who have to deal with it agree that its work is well planned and useful. The nation very highly respects Herbert Hoover and his ability in just such work, and if there has been wholesale blundering in crop reporting under the present system there is probably no one in whose hands the public would rather place the tangle for correction than in those of the secretary of commerce. We know him for a patriotic, level-headed man with a genius for administration and accuracy.

The Bright Future

PERHAPS you can get a needed laugh out of the statement in a new anarchist paper, published by Russians in Berlin, that anarchism is the only doctrine that hitherto has not been tested in Russia, and consequently has not yet been compromised. The anarchist editor deduces, therefore, that "anarchists have a great future ahead of them." Evidently the idea is that Russia will try anything once, and that since they have swigged down all other patent political panaceas, they are about due to try anarchy. What the difference may be, exactly between anarchy and that which has passed for government under the bolsheviks—especially before the retreat of capitalism began—we are not sufficiently versed in radical theories to understand. But we can see that the Russian people might consider anything better than bolshevism and thus be driven even to taking on anarchism for a trial. They could hardly be worse off in the matter of food, clothing and liberty, and it would involve a change of bosses, in any event. Or no—anarchy means no government at all. Doesn't it? Yes, we easily can see how the Russians, plunged into bolshevism after the long miseries of czarism, might readily be coaxed into a flirtation with anarchy. No government—what a relief to the simple souls who jump to the crack of Trotsky's whip!

The La Crosse Dredging company has landed the contract at Savanna, Ill., for dredging out the Mississippi along the frontage of the Burlington depot. ## Behind the Mask

By JANE OSBORN

"Do you know anything about chemistry?"

"Dear me, no. I had chemistry A in college, but I barely passed. I didn't know a stenographer had to understand chemistry."

The question was asked by the head of the Office Workers' Employment Agency and answered by Corinthe West the day she applied for a job.

Well, if you have had any chemistry at all you will do," said the employment expert. "Over at the Stenographic Research Laboratory they want a stenographer—wondered one that had had enough chemistry to know how to take down chemical formulas."

A Miss Fisher was going. In fact they had taken her but something happened, and she let us know she can't be there. So I'm anxious to send some one over there right away. Could you know how to take formulas—wouldn't you?"

"I guess I could manage."

"I hope so."

Corinthe West agreed and arrangement was made for that she should report at once for work. Then as she was leaving the office the woman at the desk called:

"Just one thing. Your work is in the laboratory, you know. They're making experiments with some sort of gases or something and you'll have to wear a mask. Sometimes the doctors don't wear them. They just wear goggles. But it would be a shame to darken a nice complexion like yours. They'll give you the mask when you get there."

Corinthe went to the laboratory, consulted the middle-aged woman who had charge of employment, told her she was the new stenographer to work in the chemical laboratory, and was forthwith assigned to a locker in the women's dressing room where she was directed to one of the small laboratories on the top floor.

"You're to work with Dr. Pollard," she was told.

That was the setting—a small laboratory on the top floor of the Stenographic Research Laboratory. ## OUT OUR WAY

SNOOZER SPINDELL HAS HIS BED FIXED SO THAT HE DOESN'T HAVE TO LOSE ANY SLEEP TO TAKE HIS SHOES OFF.

Then one day in the third week he surprised her.

"Would you go to China with me, Miss West?"

Corinthe gasped a little behind her mask and for a brief instant or so she thought that Dr. Pollard was proposing, for once one of her admirers in college days had asked her whether she would go to South America with him by way of proposing.

To China, repeated Corinthe to gain time. How could he propose, she was asking herself, when he hadn't even seen her face?

"Why, yes," said the doctor, not in the least embarrassed. "You see, I've about made up my mind to spend a few months there. I can't make this investigation complete unless I do. It would be a great help if you'd go along. I can work almost twice as fast with you on the job with me."

"Who else would go?"

"No one," said the doctor, peering at the mask in surprise. "Why should any one else go? I rather had this in mind when I asked them to give me a stenographer—an assistant like you. You see, it would be quite all right for us to go to China together—whereas, of course, it would be out of the question to take a girl of twenty."

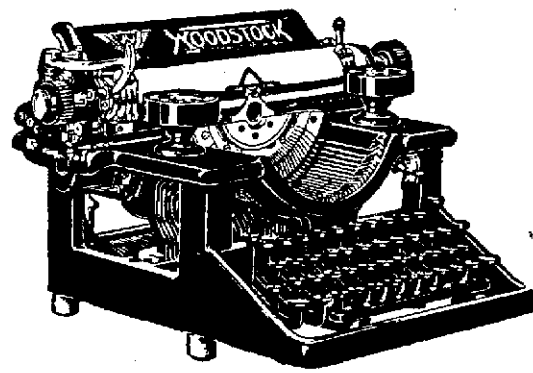

"I suppose so," said Corinthe, who was twenty-one, "and then it would be like going traveling with an old maid and or something."

"Not quite like that," said Pollard still without the least embarrassment. "But you know we never could have got so well acquainted, never could have got to be such good friends if you'd been a young girl. I'd have"

Editorial

VILAS J. BOYLE, Editor.

"When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of human civilization."—Daniel Webster.

LIST SALE CATTLE
Frequently the county Farm Bureau secretaries report that buyers from other states come to them for carloads of Wisconsin dairy animals. In some cases the secretaries are able to put the buyers in touch with farmers in their counties who have stock for sale and in others they can not.

Every time your county secretary turns away a buyer and sends him to another county it means a lost business opportunity for your county. In these days it is highly important that the farming industry be run on as business like basis as possible. This simply means getting the best possible results from the means available.

List your surplus dairy cattle with your county secretary. If he has to turn away a buyer it is not because you do not have the cattle in the county but rather because at the time of the call he does not know where to get them.

The secretary does not have time to look you up in the matter. You yourself must let him know what you have to sell. It is up to you.

T. B. EXPENSIVE
Recently the United States Department of Agriculture designated eleven counties located in four different states as modified accredited areas.

According to a rule in the packing industry, a premium of ten cents per hundred weight will be paid for all hogs coming from these areas. This will be a very noticeable help to the swine industry in the accredited sections.

If Wisconsin was free from bovine tuberculosis so that all hogs sold from the state might bring the premium paid by the packers, it would mean approximately three-quarters of a million dollars per year added to the income of the farmers of the state.

ENGLISH WAY OF ARTIFICIAL HAY Drying Success

LONDON.—Making hay while the sun shines is out of date. Hay is now being grown in many parts of England by methods over which the weather clerk has no control.

In these advanced sections, the grass is gathered, perhaps in a damp state, as soon as cut and crammed into a rick in the stack yard.

An electric fan does the rest. When the rick is built a metal cylinder is inserted so that an air current is formed. This cavity will serve a 30-ton rick to insure the safety of the curing and cooling process. A fan placed in the cavity dries out the grass and keeps it from rotting.

It is claimed that not only are the farmers saved the possible loss of their crops through bad weather, but analysis shows that hay dried in the rick has a higher percentage of albuminoids and carbohydrates, and therefore increased feeding value. The new method has been tried and approved by the ministry of agriculture and the ricks are appearing in all sections of England and Scotland.

LEARN THE DEFINITION OF "DIRT FARMER"

LEARNING TO BE DIRT FARMERS

CHICAGO, Ill.—All the old stories about city boys in the country are turning up again at Edgely Farms. The Lake Forest country place of Thomas D. Wilson, the meat packer, where 20 Chicago high school boys are being developed into practical dirt farmers.

The boys are students in Parker High school, where their work includes instruction in agriculture under Professor F. B. Post. Professor Post is spending his own summer vacation in farm work and at the invitation of the packer, the students went to the farm for six-weeks "laboratory course."

They receive regular wages for their work, and from Professor Post they get lectures and instruction on livestock, agriculture and farm management. Edward Wilson, a son of the packer, is sharing the life of the other boys, living with them in their tent camp and going through their schedule of work and recreation.

GUERNSEY PICNIC AT GRISWOLD FARM ENJOYED BY MANY

Fully Four Hundred Persons Attended Picnic Last Wednesday; Attractive Features

WEST SALEM.—A crowd estimated at fully four hundred persons from La Crosse, Vernon and other adjoining counties joined with La Crosse Guernseymen in the farmers' picnic at the home of C. D. Griswold Wednesday.

The program included an exhibition of Guernsey cattle, picnic dinner, speeches, sports and a baby show. All went off in excellent shape the only trouble being that the day was hardly long enough for everything. There was a good exhibit of stock with a nice class of Guernsey calves exhibited by the younger breeders. In the calf club class Arlin Moos won first on bull calf, Janet Lee 2nd, Earl Jewett 3rd and Harry Griswold 4th.

In the heifer calf exhibit Arlin Hauser won 1st, Ray Rhodes 2nd, Ernest Zoehrl 3rd and Eldor Miller 4th.

In the exhibit of cows 1st went to C. D. Griswold, 2nd to Emil Miller, 3rd Melvin Lee, 4th and 5th C. D. Griswold.

Short addresses were given in mid-afternoon by E. G. Clark, W. E. Spreiter and Mrs. Ida Tilton. Each were interesting and along lines of particular interest to Guernsey breeders and dairymen. Mr. Clark announced that his big new barn would be open free of charge to livestock shows and community gatherings.

During the speeches Dr. Jeffers and Miss Regan, county nurse, picked the winners in the baby contest. The list of prize winning youngsters was published in a previous issue of the Tribune. An indoor baseball game followed between teams chosen from Vernon and La Crosse county. The game was fast and furious with Vernon county the winners. The exact score was in some dispute but was plenty large enough to suit everybody.

BOYS AND GIRLS OF MONROE COUNTY SHOW CALVES AT THE FAIR

One hundred and fifteen boys' and girls' club calves were shown at the Monroe County Fair last week, which is probably the largest number of club calves ever shown at any county fair in Wisconsin or any other state. The five Dairy Breeds, including Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, Ayrshires, and Brown Swisses, were represented. Several Shorthorn were also shown. They were housed under one large tent and this was filled to capacity. Other features of the County Fair were the huge Livestock Parade, the Boys and Girls Demonstration team contests, and the Showman's contest. Four demonstration teams competed, two of which tied for first place. Both of these teams will be sent to the State Fair, and have their expenses paid. The two teams that tied were the Sparta Calf Club Association consisting of Joyce and Donald Huddleston and Mildred Solbach, and the Jersey Calf Club team of Tomah, consisting of John Hill and Margaret and Arthur Wallace. For the Showman's contest, the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders Association gave three prizes, first a Silver cup, second a showman kit and third a show halter. About 75 girls and boys entered this contest in which much interest was manifested. John Hill won the Silver trophy, Donald Huddleston, the showman's kit and Albert Ruetten the Show halter.

WISCONSIN JUNIOR LIVESTOCK EXHIBIT TO BE GRAND EVENT

Eben E. Jones of this county has been chosen to officiate in the Short-horn division of the Wisconsin Junior Livestock Exposition to be held in Madison on October 24-26. He will select the winners from among the exhibitors of reds, whites and roans shown by the youthful breeders from the various sections of the state.

Attracting the young exhibitors to this state-wide competition is a premium fund of nearly $2,000 and the opportunity to pit their skill against feeders and fitters from other districts.

Held in connection with this exposition will be Wisconsin's First Top Litter and Best Barrow contest. Already more than 180 entries have been made for this competition. To be eligible for entry in this show a litter of pigs must have attained to weight in six months or corresponding weight in lesser time.

MILLION SANDWICHES TO BE GIVEN AWAY ON MONROE 'CHEESE DAY'

MONROE, Wis.—Cheese, great round wheels of Swiss cheese, will be given away in a million sandwiches when this fertile dairy country, "The Switzerland of America," celebrates its first cheese day since the outbreak of the war.

One-third of all the Swiss cheese in the world is produced here in Green county. On October 2 and 3, the cheese-makers are prepared to welcome 35,000 visitors from a half dozen states. Seventy-five years ago a little band of 155 sturdy Swiss trekked west in covered wagons to a spot in Wisconsin they had been told about before they left their Alpine home.

After vacations come the breach of promise suits.

WIDE ATTENTION IS ATTRACTED BY FAIR THIS YEAR

Entries Coming in Long Before Fair Dates; Announce List of Judges

The Interstate fair at La Crosse is attracting more widespread attention this year than ever before in the history of the association, according to C. S. Van Auker, secretary of the board. Though it is still three weeks until the opening date of the fair, many entries have already been received.

With the boys' and girls' departments greatly enlarged, and a greater interest being shown in all of the other departments, the fair is sure to go to a complete success. Additional space for the housing of cattle exhibits is provided this year in the new cattle display building which is now nearing completion. It is similar to the one constructed last year.

The racing card this year includes some of the fastest horses in this section of the country, and the purses are large enough to attract the best among the drivers. The midway attractions are well taken care of by a carnival company notable for the cleanliness of its offerings.

THIS IS THE GOOSE THAT LAID THE GOLDEN EGG

MRS. EARL HINMAN AND HER CHAMPION GOOSE

FREMONT, Ill.—When a hen lays a heap of eggs and ceps a record as a champion, one doesn't get excited. Because that's the hen's little part in this world of toil.

But a goose! That's different. Lady Bess is the name of the husky bundle of fowl in the young woman's arms above. In 136 days, Lady Bess laid 68 eggs, not missing an alternate day. Normally, geese lay only 25 eggs a year.

Mrs. Earl Hinman, her owner, is justly proud of her egg-producer. The goose is just four years old and weighs 22½ pounds.

And she's still hitting on all cylinders!

PLAN COMMUNITY FAIR AT BANGOR IN NEAR FUTURE

Arrangements are being made for a Community Fair at Bangor and the premium list is now in course of preparation. The lists will be open to the farmers of the county, and an interesting program of addresses by prominent speakers, parades, music and other features, together with an exhibit of county farm products, will be given. The dates will be announced in this page at an early date.

Badger Boys And Girls In Club Contest

Old rivals—Wisconsin and Minnesota—will fight for supremacy in many exciting contests at the Northwest Dairy Exposition, Saint Paul, September 1 to 5th, but no contest is exciting the interest as that aroused by the projection of Boy and Girl Calf clubs from the Badger state into the judging contest to determine the grand champion junior judging team from the northwest.

Minneapolis has conducted its Junior Dairy Exposition in connection with the State Fair without competition from outside the state. This year with the holding of the first Northwest Dairy Exposition, public-spirited business men in the Twin Cities raised several thousand dollars with which to defray expenses of Wisconsin teams to the scene of the western dairy classic. These state teams will compete separately except in the contest to determine the grand champion junior judging team. A trophy will be the prize.

Holstein Bulls--- Poland China Boars

Mr. Farmer and Breeder: Do you know we have the kind of stock you should use at the head of your herd?

Why? Because we have been breeding and developing this herd for twenty-three years. Our success has been demonstrated by our winnings at the leading fairs. We have some real bargains in Bulls, six to nine months old, all well grown and beautiful markings out of cows that have records of 650 to 800 pounds of butter in a year. Our stock and prices will surprise you. (We sold three bulls last month).

We are making special prices on Bulls and Spring Boars this month, and on easy terms. All we ask of you is to call and let us show you what we have to offer, and give you the price.

HOUSTON COUNTY LAYS PLANS FOR SUCCESSFUL FAIR

Predict that Exhibition this Year Will be Best and Biggest of all

CALEDONIA, Minn.—(Special.)—With fair weather this week the Houston County fair promises to surpass all previous fairs, both in exhibits shown and in attendance. This year the management made special effort to secure better attractions and bigger and better exhibits and it will be safe to say that the Houston County fair of 1923 will repeat its record of last year, that of being the best of the numerous county fairs in the state of Minnesota.

Secretary Ed Zimmerhake has been fortunate in booking some of the best free acts ever attempted in this section. Coriell, Donzo Co., The Musical Lunds, The Le Roys, Billie Rand and the Lang Free Acts are a few of the many free attractions to be given daily.

George Vanslow, the dare-devil death-defying aviator, will hang by his hands, knees and teeth on a rope dangling from a speeding aeroplane. He will also jump from the tail of the aeroplane in a thrilling parachute jump. He will appear Thursday and Friday.

Baseball Games

Baseball is being recognized as the premier amusement feature of the county fair and to accomplish this end, the fair board engaged five popular Houston county teams to battle for supremacy. Wednesday the strong Spring Grove team with the large number of baseball fans comes down from the west to get revenge at Caledonia for the two stinging defeats handed them earlier in the season. On Thursday Houston will try to down Caledonia and a lively contest is looked for. The latter teams are very evenly matched and the intense rivalry existing between them will help to make this a game of games. So for this season Caledonia has won three games and Houston one. On Friday Hokah will play the Silver Creek team and another interesting game is sure to follow. Rev. John Steger, one of the best baseball authorities in southern Minnesota, will umpire the three games, circumstances permitting.

Thomas P. Schall, Minnesota's blind congressman, will address the fair crowd on Wednesday on the subject, "The Soul of America." Mr. Schall is one of the nation's most eloquent orators.

Farm Bureau Day

Friday has been designated as Farm Bureau day. J. F. Reed, president of Minnesota Farm bureau, will deliver an address on that day. Every township in the county will try to keep the attendance prize money, and the unique hog-calling stunt will be pulled off. Some of the best hog-bellows of the county have entered the contest, which is the first of its kind in the northwest. The Caledonia, Elitzen and Hokah bands have been engaged to furnish music for the fair. A big amusement company will occupy the space along the midway.

SALADS

A salad may often serve a two-fold purpose. A fruit salad will take the place of dessert and a substantial salad will take the place of a heavy meat course.

These suggestions for summer menus may help you. If you are serving a substantial salad precede it with a cup of hot bouillon. While the bouillon is hot, in and of itself it does not produce heat in the body. A creamed vegetable on toast contains protein as well as the vegetable minerals and boosts the salad calories. A fruit dessert in a form of pudding to add bulk and satisfy the appetite is a happy choice for this sort of meal.

Cheese and Nut Salad

One-half pound fresh cottage cheese, 1 cup chopped nut meats, 1 green pepper, 1 fresh cucumber, 3-4 cup sweet cream, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika.

Par and slice cucumber. Dip pepper in boiling water and slip off outer skin. Open. Mince. Mix cucumber, nuts and pepper. Add cream and salt to cheese and mix well with a fork. A spoon would break the cheese and make the whole paste. Combine mixture and serve on crisp dry lettuce. Sprinkle liberally with paprika. The lettuce can ruin this salad if it is wet and not properly prepared.

Spinach and Egg Salad

One cup cooked spinach, 4 hard-boiled eggs, 1-2 cup butter, mushrooms, lettuce, mayonnaise. Broil mushrooms in butter. Mince and add liquor and mushrooms to spinach. Cut eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove yolks and fill whites with spinach mixture. Arrange on lettuce cups and sprinkle with stuffed eggs.

PEACE AWARD IS BROUGHT TO NOTICE OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

MINNEAPOLIS.—Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has sent a letter to the 5,000 women's clubs of the organization. It was learned Monday, calling their attention to the $100,000 American peace award created by Edward W. Bok, and reminding them that the award relates to the subject most dear to the women, Mrs. Winter wrote:

"We have learned that there is no use in talk alone. We must have the machinery. Perhaps in your midst or in the combined wisdom of your club will be found the solution. Please read and discuss and think about it."

EMBROIDERIES

Interesting embroideries executed in ribbon are seen on many of the fall frocks. One frock shows the bow waist, the emphasized by a belt made of fold upon fold of satin-edged gros grain ribbon alternated with ribbon which has a gold edge.

GILT FRAMES

When your gilt frames are new, if you will go over them with white varnish, you will not change the appearance, but you will make a surface that can be very easily cleaned.

NOVEL CUFF

One of the newer street dresses has a single deep cuff serving as a muff. It matches the fur which forms the high Russian collar.

APRON GLOIFIED

The apron is an indispensable part of the fall frock. Sometimes the apron is transformed into a wrapped tunic, sometimes into a cape.

SAVING STEPS

Every woman should arrange her kitchen so that she does not have to cross and recross it many times in order to perform simple tasks.

Garnish with strips of pimento and serve mayonnaise in a lettuce leaf at one side of the plate.

Harlequin Salad

One cup watermelon or cantaloupe balls, 2 bananas, 4 ripe plums, 1-2 cup sliced apples, 1-4 cup marshmallows or sunshiny cherries, 1-4 cup minced mint leaves, 2 oranges, 1 lemon, 1-2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1-3 cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, boiled salad dressing, 1-2 cup whipped cream.

Squeeze juice from oranges and lemon, add sugar and mint leaves and enough boiling water to make two cups of liquid. Bring to the boiling point, remove from fire and stir in gelatin softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved and let stand until beginning to set. Dice bananas, pare and remove stones from plums and cut in dice. Drain cherries from syrup and cut in quarters. Mix fruit and add to jelly. Let stand until chilled and firm. Serve on lettuce with boiled dressing topped with whipped cream.

Combination Fruit Salad

One-half cup diced apples, 1-2 cup diced peaches, 1 orange diced, 1 banana, 1-2 cup diced pears, 1-4 cup chopped and seeded raisins, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Mix fruit with enough oil mayonnaise to make moist. Serve on lettuce.

Pear Salad

Two large pears, 1 package neuf-châtel cheese, 2 teaspoons peanut butter, 1 tablespoon cream, boiled dressing, lettuce.

Pare pears and cut in halves. Remove core. Work cheese, peanut butter and cream to a smooth well blended mixture. Fill cavities of pears with mixture. Serve on lettuce masked with boiled dressing.

Household Suggestions

Cane seats in chairs can be cleaned and tightened by rubbing them with hot soapuds on the top and then on the underside, thoroughly soaking the cane, then drying them in the air.

WHITE GLOVES

Put a little ammonia, say a table spoonful to two quarts of water, in the water in which you wash your white silk gloves and white stockings. They will not become yellow if you do.

FRESH BEANS

Fresh beans or peas should never pass through any cold water.

VARNISHED LINOLEUM

If linoleum is varnished it wears better and is easier to clean.

ROSE BUSHES

Rose bushes are said to thrive if you water them with soapuds.

Apron Skirt Makes Smart Front Dress Trimming

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

The apron skirt has come as the smart front trimming for dresses. Here are two variations of the apron skirt style—the long and the short of it, as it were.

A separate panel of pleats flows from beneath the long bib front of the dress on the left. This panel may be of the same color material or a contrasting color.

The dress on the right has a short apron skirt that reaches above the knees. Pleats end it on one side; the other side is plain. The skirt has an inset of piglets to carry out the idea. The back of the apron dress is usually perfectly straight, untruncated by trimming of any kind.

Charles Ristow Held for Hearing; Two Companions are Not Apprehended

Charles Ristow was arraigned before County Judge Brindley Monday morning on charges of fishing with a seine with undersize mesh, fishing in the night-time and illegal fishing of game fish. He pleaded not guilty and the hearing was adjourned until September 6. He was released on $200 bail, which was furnished by L. Epstein, fish dealer.

Ristow was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Game Warden Gautsch. Ristow was apprehended Friday night several hours after the six game wardens who have been inspecting the river bottoms between La Crosse and De Soto left the city. Gautsch said he had been on the trail of Ristow, Ed Hill and A. C. Larson since last spring, but had been unable to catch them until last Friday. Hill and Larson, who were with Ristow on Friday, did not appear in court Monday. Gautsch says he believes they have gone back to their homes in Iowa.

Gautsch came across Ristow, Hill and Larson in Running Slough. He had been informed by farmers that the men were seining in the slough. Gautsch confiscated the boat, a 500-foot seine, 225 pounds of carp and some pike, sunfish, pickerel and several croppies.

to 2 p. m. when the miners will come to my private office.

Meetings "Confidential"

Governor Pinchot declared his purpose of treating the conference with each side "as wholly confidential."

"As the representative of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I have called you together for the purpose of finding a way to keep the anthracite mines in operation. I am acting now solely in my capacity as governor of Pennsylvania, and with the rights and interests of the people of Pennsylvania and of the other anthracite using states, clearly in mind.

"The general public is a party to this controversy, and its rights, as well as the rights of the two other parties, must be presented and recognized. A shortage of anthracite means not only a huge loss of profits to the operators—but a huge loss of wages to the miners—but it means also loss of health among millions of American families, loss of comfort of working power, and of time.

Holds State Responsible

"The commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a responsibility to other anthracite using states and to Canada which is second only to her responsibility for the safety and welfare of her own citizens.

"We have taught them to use our product. The prosperity of the region which produces anthracite comes largely from such use. Having taught them to expect and value our service, we cannot lightly disappoint them.

"The country is just now entering upon a period of prosperity after a prolonged depression. The closing down of the anthracite mines would tend to undermine the confidence essential to a continuance of this prosperity.

"Our railroads are heavily taxed already. An uneven output of coal—now much and now little—tending to block transportation will be almost as effective in making a coal shortage as closing the mines.

"The public has not forgotten, and I shall not forget, the rights and interests of the miners and operators. Each side represents a great and vital service to the public. Moreover, each side stands in the presence of a great and vitally important duty to the people at large.

People Losing Patience

"The public does not and cannot see with your eyes and appreciate with your experience the background and the details of the present controversy. But it knows the essential facts. I express a truth none will deny when I say that the anthracite-using people of the United States are losing patience, and I ask you to consider that fact with care.

"The public interest demands that this controversy shall be settled, and that a suspension of mining shall be avoided. The thing is possible—and it must be done.

"Settlement means that neither side can get everything it would like to have. Few people ever do in the world we live in. But the settlement of this dispute is absolutely necessary for the public safety and welfare. The public needs and must have coal, and I am entirely confident that the public is going to have it. It is my duty to insure to the public, by every lawful means at my command, the necessary supply of coal.

Right on Both Sides

"I recognize the right of mine workers to organize for their own protection, and to fair and decent conditions of living. I am fully aware that the strike is a right which should not be arbitrarily bridged or denied. The exercise of this right, however, should be made unnecessary by the use of orderly and reasonable methods of adjustment.

"I recognize the right of mine operators to a just return on the investment and their managerial ability.

"As the representative of the people of this commonwealth, I am here to tell you that these rights are to be recognized and protected, and that the public rights are to be recognized and protected also.

"The Roosevelt platform of 1912 asserted that the public good comes first. Do not forget that the public cannot look on indifference upon unnecessary industries; conflict over private rights while it suffers in health, comfort and the very essentials of life.

"The eleventh hour is upon us—and the crisis has now been reached. We

TESTIFIES ARNOLD GOT FIRM'S MONEY FOR PERSONAL USE

Hundred Thousand Turned Over to Him; Part Went for Purchase of Rolls Royce

SUPERIOR, Wis.—That Victor H. Arnold, former head of the Madison Bond company, charged by federal government with using the mails to defraud, was given over $100,000 of the Victor H. Arnold company's money for his personal use, was the testimony of J. R. Oliver, former treasurer of the Chicago concern, on the stand in federal court here Monday morning.

A portion of this money was used by Arnold in purchasing a Rolls-Royce automobile in Chicago, the witness testified.

Albert Weinand, cashier of the Evansville, Ill., State bank, a former Madison Bond company employee, testified that the collateral behind the bond issues No. 48 to 54, of the company, was in many cases, not equal to the outstanding indebtedness of the issues.

John R. Oliver, former treasurer of the Victor H. Arnold company of Chicago, and A. C. Toupal, a former bookkeeper of the concern, each told of the switching of the collateral of the various bond issues at Arnold's direction, in order that the collateral might jibe with the outstanding debts.

MITCHELL BROTHERS, MITT SLINGERS, MAY BE MOVIE MEN SOON

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A switch from the real boxing game to that of the screen in which left hooks and right crosses are only make-believe, and depict a hero in the silent drama, is being considered by Richie and Pinkie Mitchell, well known Milwaukee knights of the padded mitt.

A western film organization now at work on a scenario from which a picture is being filmed, has under consideration the taking on of Richie or his twin brother Pinkie, to fill a vacancy in a cast occasioned by a change which necessitated the transfer to another organization of one of the leading characters.

Richie Mitchell is now in California where he spent last week for the purpose of engaging in a number of short route bouts. His brother manager, Billy, has wired him to call off all proposed engagements pending decisive negotiations with the moving picture organization.

its great power to draw forth the best thought, heart and soul of our people. In such a crystallization will be read the decision of the republic."

In making public the foregoing letter, Mr. Wellman asserted that had Mr. Harding lived, his plans and purposes he would himself have revealed when ready.

Duty to Circulate Letter

"But now," continued Mr. Wellman, "it is plainly my duty to him to the people who loved him as a man regardless of their views of his policies, to make known what he told me of his determination to do all in his power to bring about a higher type of civilization to banish war, to lift from all peoples the burdens and menace of the old but now worn out and useless militaristic regime. It is only just to Mr. Harding's fame, to his place in history, that the truth be made public."

Mr. Wellman then told of the conversations he had had with Mr. Harding in the White House a few weeks before his death.

Picturing what Mr. Harding planned "to make the world safe for humanity," Mr. Wellman said he wished to have the world court proposal settled as the first small step, and then contemplated next year inviting all the nations to a world congress at which he meant to submit a definite program.

Mr. Wellman said that the late president had discussed features of this program, in which he saw the effort that had failed and which should be merged into a greater and more efficient community council embracing all nations equipped not with arms, but with the means necessary to achieve its ideal. Particularly, said Mr. Wellman, did Mr. Harding deem it necessary to end war by forbidding it in international law; not compromising with it, but leaving it without legal status."

GULLS BACK TO HELGOLAND

HELGOLAND — Kittiwakes have appeared in flocks off the coasts of Helgoland lately, apparently looking for breeding places, and the migration of these gulls from their northern haunts has aroused considerable interest.

The authorities have issued instructions that all possible encouragement and protection be given the birds for re-establishing colonies on the island. It has been decades since the kittiwake with its unusual three-toed feet has used Helgoland as a haven for hatching.

Testing Pearls by the X-Ray

The Japanese were producing what are declared to be real pearls by introducing into one oyster a particle of mother-of-pearl sewn up in shell-producing tissue taken from another oyster. Jewelers, however, say that the unnatural stimulation induced by the method results in a pearl of distinctly inferior quality, held to be so because the surface lacks the lustre and pinkish glow of the natural pearl; it is a dead wax appearance, and the texture is not so fine. As an additional precaution the X-ray is used this never fails to differentiate the natural from the forced variety.

Jake Zandervort, 60-year-old taxi driver of Tomah, was instantly killed at five o'clock Saturday morning when the car he was driving was struck by train number 15 of the Milwaukee road at a crossing at the edge of the city. Mr. Zandervort was just leaving Tomah for a trip into the country and was alone at the time of the accident.

The train struck the car with such force that the man and the machine were dragged along the tracks for a distance of almost half a mile.

Tomah residents, who were near at the time, say that the automatic alarm bell at the crossing was working as the train approached.

The victim was well known and popular in Tomah. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

FRED SCHEPPKE IS FINED AS SPEEDER ON COUNTRY ROAD

La Crosse Man is Second to be Arrested by New Deputy Sheriff

Fred Scheppke of La Crosse, was fined $10 and costs of $8.29 in county court Monday morning on a charge of speeding. Scheppke at first pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Later he changed his plea to guilty. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by W. A. Hoppman, construction foreman of the repair crew working of State Trunk Highway No. 11, between Midway and Onalaska. Hoppman alleges that Scheppke drove between 40 and 45 miles an hour over No. 11, through Onalaska, where the repair crew now is working. Scheppke denied that he was speeding. He said he was driving with the cut-out open and that the exhaust was so loud that it gave the impression that he was traveling at a high rate of speed. Hoppman is one of the sheriffs' recent authorized to enforce traffic regulations on country roads. Scheppke is the second to be arrested for traffic law violations by the new deputy sheriff.

RECORD SCHOOL ENROLLMENT TO TAX ALL CITIES

School Officials Face Necessity of Providing Space for Thousands of New Pupils

NEW YORK—A record breaking enrollment throughout the country will severely tax the public schools when they open next month, a survey indicates.

New York schools face the problem of placing thousands of new students. The board of education is unable to estimate the extent of the seat shortage, but it was stated severe congestion cannot be avoided.

Houston will need 7,000 additional seats for the coming school year. Half day sessions will be held to accommodate the children.

Detroit Needs Room for 25,000

This year's school census in Detroit shows there are 265,000 children. Should all conserved children attend, school facilities for 25,000 more will have to be added.

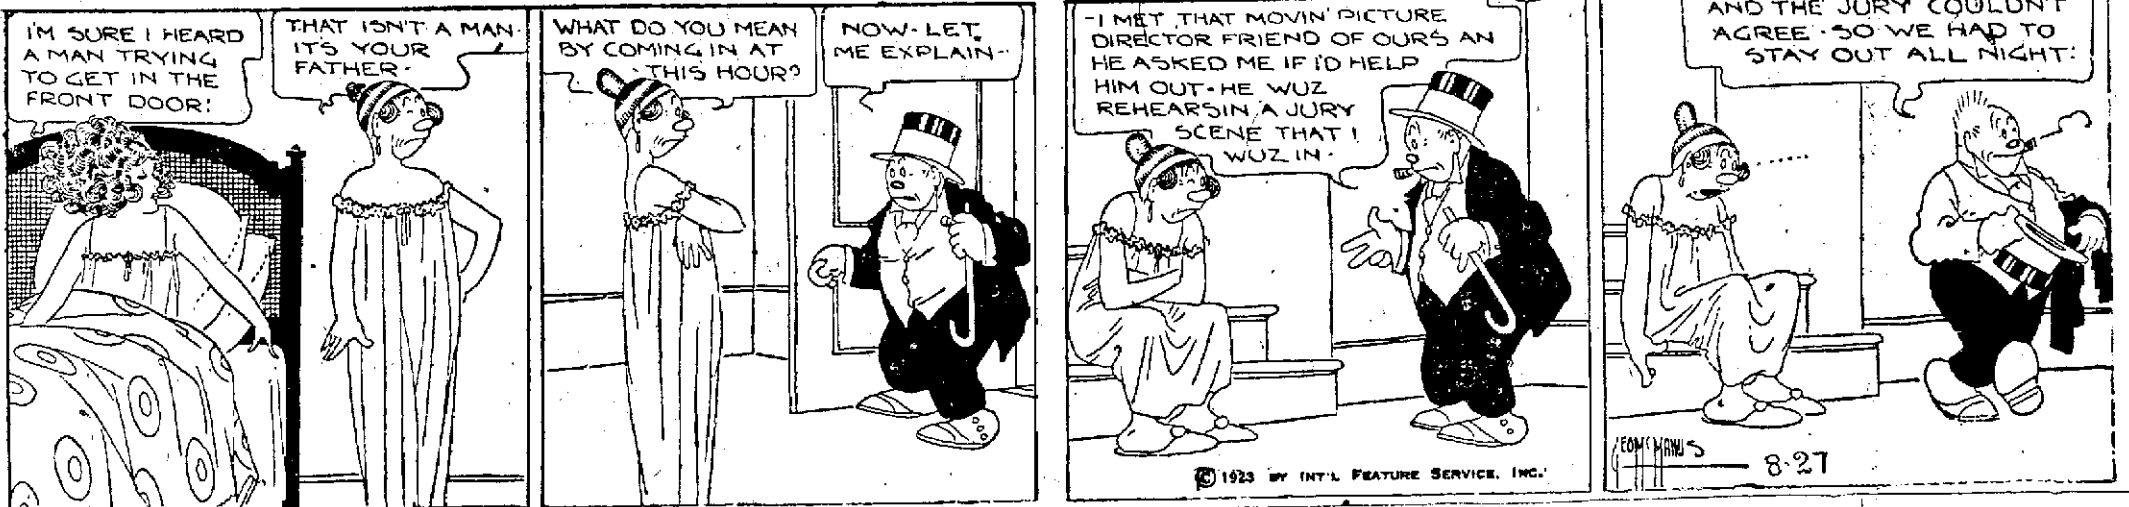

Oklahoma City will be short seats for 1,500 pupils.

Washington, D. C., needs accommodation for 6,000 additional pupils. Accommodation will be made in rented buildings to provide space for 9,000 students in Buffalo.

Many Schools Going Up

Four large buildings are being built at Madison, Wis., to meet a shortage of 5,000 in seating capacity. While Lincoln, Neb., has seating capacity for all students who will enroll, 50 per cent of the children will study in classrooms that are unsanitary and lacking in modern equipment, according to W. W. Kurfmann, assistant superintendent of schools.

There will be a shortage of less than 1,000 seats in Atlanta, where wooden school buildings have been replaced with several modern grammar schools.

Schools are overcrowded in San Francisco, where conditions have been bad for four or five years.

There will be no shortage in Denver, Boston, New Orleans, Columbus, Des Moines, Ill., or Springfield, Ill. In Indianapolis the school board is starting a $1,500,000 building program immediately to provide facilities for 5,000 pupils who will have to be housed in temporary classrooms until eight new buildings are ready. St. Paul is spending $8,000,000 for new buildings.

BOLT STRIKES CHURCH

ZION, Ill.—Fire caused by lightning bolt destroyed the North Prairie Methodist church, four miles northwest of here near the Wisconsin state line early Monday during a severe electrical storm. The Rev. H. B. Amstutz is pastor of the church, which served a large rural community.

"HUMAN SIEVE" OF WORLD WAR FAME VISITS CITY

Raymond E. Bell, noted biker, author, photographer and veteran of the world war, in which he won the nickname of the "human sieve" because of the 92 wounds which he received in one engagement, passed through the city Monday, stopping over for a few hours to catch up on his photographic work and writing. Though he is paralyzed below his left knee, Mr. Bell bikes all of the distance which he travels. In his trip around the world, he is now on the second turn, he made the first 4,000 miles on crutches. He still limps a little, but gets over the ground pretty fast, having made 62 miles in one day last week.

He is now on his way from North Dakota, where he assisted in unearthing relics from Indian mounds, to Barroq, Wis., and other points in the northern part of the state, where he will do some work for the National Geographic magazine.

Mr. Bell is a writer for the National Geographic and other magazines of a scientific nature. He is a naturalist by profession and recognized as one of the leaders in his chosen field.

OFFICERS SEEKING PARTY WHICH SHOT UP NEGRO QUARTER

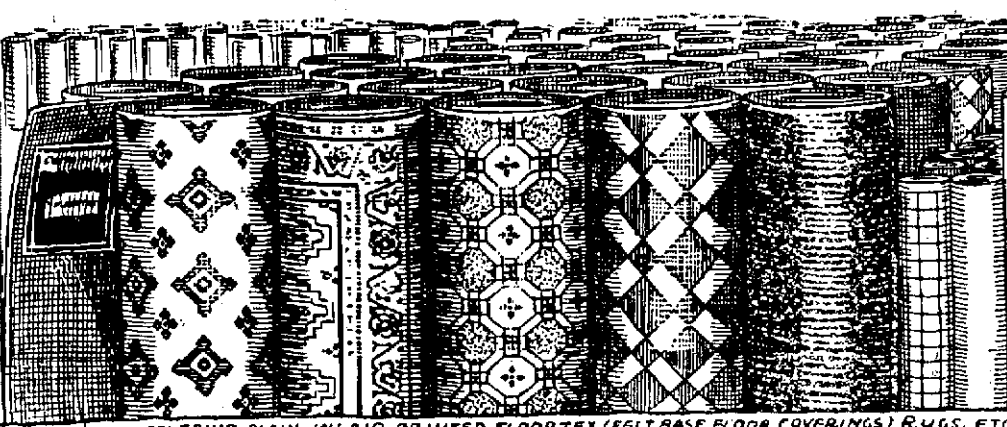

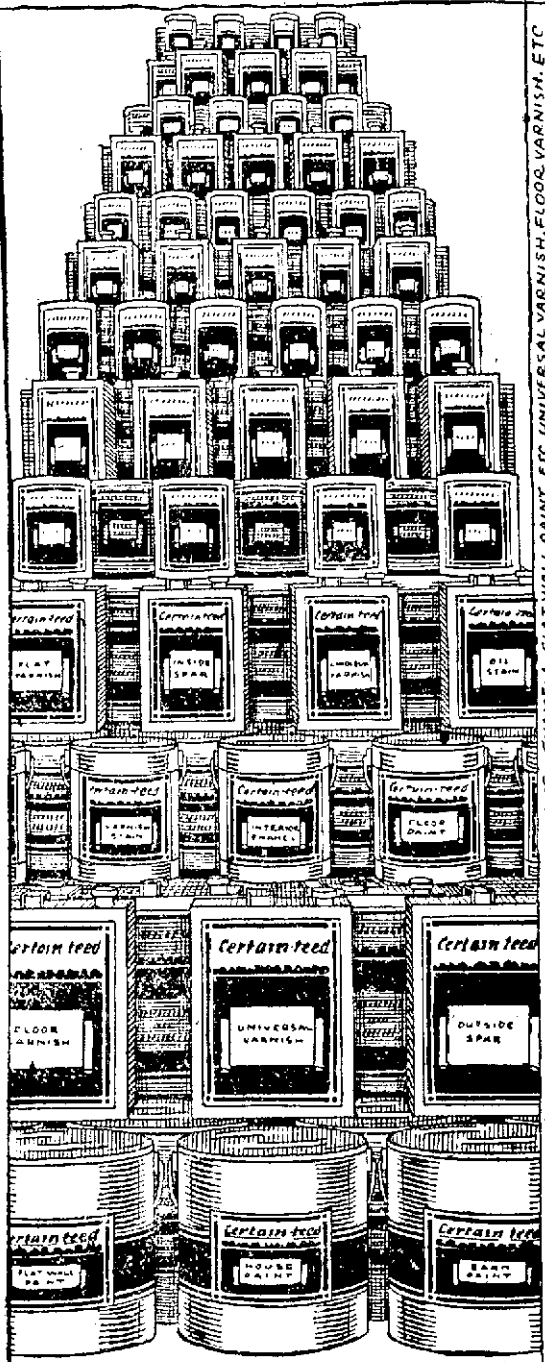

SAVANNAH, Ga.—City and county officials were scouring east Savannah, a negro settlement and the surrounding country at an early hour Monday morning in search of an unknown number of white men in three automobiles, who drove through the settlement and fired more than a hundred shots into houses killing one negro, according to reports, and wounding a number of others.

No motive for the firing is known.

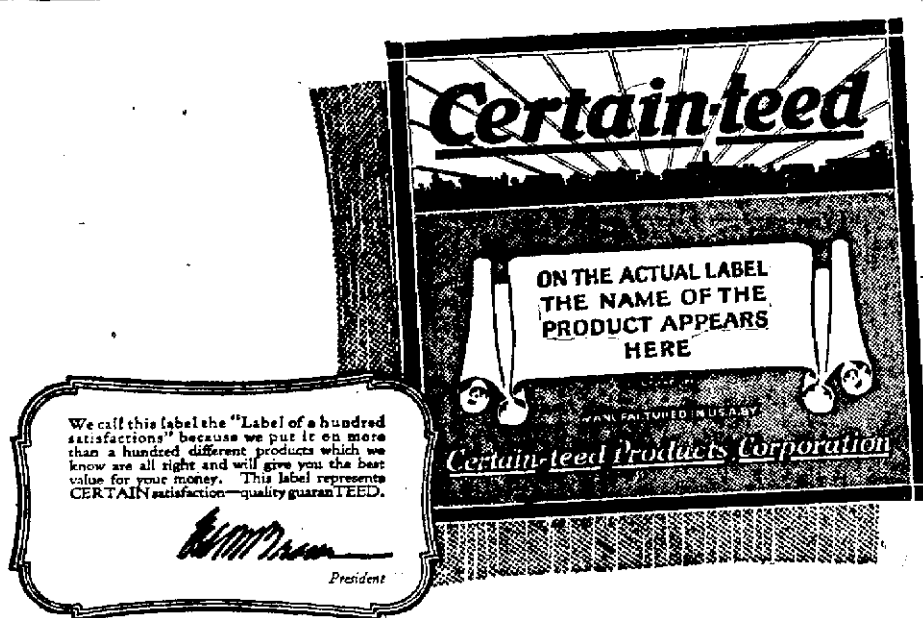

They appeared suddenly and commenced shooting without warning. It was said, County policemen were immediately rushed to East Savannah but were able to learn very little from the terrified negroes other than that the men in the three automobiles were white.

Half a million automobile accidents occurred in 1922, which made an average of 1,370 every day or 57 every hour. The toll in killed was 14,000 persons.

The Label of a Hundred Satisfactions

Certain-teed—a composite of Certain and Guaranteed—the strongest two buying words that could be put into a trade-mark or back of a product, was coined because there was no one word with a meaning big enough, broad enough or strong enough, to express the endorsement back of Certain-teed products.

The Certain-teed label is your unerring guide to certain satisfaction—quality guaranteed, your assurance of the best value for your money.

HERE ARE THE REASONS:

Overhead expense spread thinly over more than a hundred products.

Plants so located as to benefit by short hauls and low freight charges on both raw and finished products.

These savings are passed on to you in better quality for a like price, or equal quality for a lower price by more than 100,000 Certain-teed dealers from coast to coast.
